

February 27, 1778

REVOLUTIONARY WAR

The colonists and George Washington won the war

George Washington supported the American colonists.

Some of his accomplishments were, winning the revolutionary war and serving two terms as the first U.S. president. Some other accomplishments were getting elected to the Virginia House of Burgesses where each county sends two representatives and elects one to go to the Virginia House of Burgesses, another accomplishment was marring Martha Dandridge.

Even though he had so many more years to live he started dying at age 67. It started by getting a sore throat, then it became more irritated and his voice became more hoarse. They had to call a physician to help George Washington. The physician made a mixture of molasses, sugar, and honey to help George Washington's sore throat. When he swallowed the mixture he started to suffocate, but he didn't die. Then since it wasn't getting better the physician decided to extract blood. Then the physician left so George Washington could rest. George Washington started to have a hard time breathing so they had to keep hiring physicians by the time all of them had finished they had extracted 32 ounces of blood. Then George Washington was fading away and a couple of days later he passed away. -Bry fort Washington, the battle of fort Washington was during the American Revolution the date of the battle was November 16 , 1776 it was located in new York It begun because of the revolutionary war. The colonist's won the war because they were the stronger side . -Margret

FORT WASHINGTON

Map used to locate where fort Washington was so me and my soldiers get to it.

Fun Facts

Oliver

1. George Washington was president from 1789-1797.
2. The battle field was located in Washington heights Manhattan new York.
3. The date of the battle was Saturday, November 16, 1776.
4. The British army and hessians fought against the Americans.
5. The Americans were out numbered by around 5,000.
6. Fort Washington had no water supply within its walls.
7. 23,717 people lived in fort Washington.

"We must all hang together, or assuredly we shall all hang separately."

"Give me liberty or give me death."

-Patrick Henry

"There! His Majesty can now read my name without glasses. And he can double the reward on my head!"